the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.2 million (Office for National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 85 and over has increased by 0.5 million in the same period.

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop services to meet the needs of older people. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the health and social care of older people. The strategy is based on the following principles:

- Older people should be able to live independently for as long as possible.
- Older people should be able to access the services they need when and where they need them.
- Older people should be able to participate in decisions about their care and services.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives, including:

- To improve the health and social care of older people.
- To ensure that older people have access to the services they need when and where they need them.
- To ensure that older people are able to participate in decisions about their care and services.

The strategy is a key document in the development of services for older people. It sets out the government's commitment to improve the health and social care of older people, and provides a framework for the development of services.

In Memoriam

MICHAEL SKOREYKO

Born October 4th, 1927 at Willingdon. Lived on a farm and went to public school at Barawick. Attended Willingdon High School for one year where he was editor of the "Willingdon Chronicle". After spending a week at Olds in the summer, Michael decided he would like to take the course offered at the School of Agriculture. Passed away very early in the term, October 30th, after a short illness.

Nationality—Canadian Ukrainian.

Religion—Greek Orthodox.

When I pass out and my time is spent,
I hope for no lofty monument,
No splendid procession marching slow
Along the last long road I go;
No pomp and glory I care for then,
When I depart from the world of men.

But I'd like to think when my race is through
That there will be in the world a few
Who'll say, "Well, there is a good man gone,
I'm sorry to see him passing on,
For he was a sort that's fair and square,
The kind of fellow it's hard to spare.

"He hadn't money, he hadn't fame,
But he kept the rules and he played the game,
His eyes were true and his laugh was clear,
He held his truth and his honor dear,
And now that his work is at an end,
I know how much I shall miss my friend."

If my life shall earn such words as those
I shall smile in peace as my eyelids close,
I shall rest in quiet and lie content,
With the words of a friend for my monument.

A Message from the Minister of Agriculture

I AM GLAD of the opportunity to extend, through the medium of "Echoes", a message to the young people taking courses of study in Agriculture or Home Economics at the Olds School of Agriculture.

We do not doubt that you have made good use of your stay at the O.S.A. There has been labour—but there has also been much fun. Both are important in the making of worthwhile lives. Those of you who have learned to gain profit and pleasure through your association with staff and fellow students, as well as from a pursuit of the objects set out in the required course of studies, will, on your departure, take with you the greatest measure of value.

Unfortunately, only a relatively small number of our boys and girls find it possible to take advantage of the opportunities for training provided at the Olds School of Agriculture. Each one of you, therefore, represent the future farmers or the home-makers in the communities from which you come. We feel assured that your experiences together will be reflected for many years to come in your contributions toward community improvement and in the further economic development of this Province.

All the great nations of the world are now engaged in the greatest war in history. At the moment, we have every reason to be confident that the cause of the United Nations will triumph. We are further confident that complete victory will come at an early date. In the meantime, however, the importance of food is increasing. All of you, girls as well as boys, must be encouraged in the thought that yours is the opportunity to return to homes and fields this summer where you will help to produce the food required for the success of our armies.

Eventually, however, the moral fibre of the peoples of the world will decide the form of peace we shall have. Do not neglect therefore, to do your share in building the social and political attitudes that alone can win the long pull to real freedom and the elimination of want in your generation.

May I extend to each of you, my personal wishes for your success in the discharge of the many responsibilities that will be yours in the years ahead.

D. BRUCE MacMILLAN.

A Message from the Deputy Minister of Agriculture

I AM PLEASED to accept an invitation to address the students of the O.S.A. through the pages of "Echoes".

The current edition of your Magazine should be one of its most important issues, for the reason that the year 1944 will be a momentous one in the world's history; the year in which, we hope, the forces of aggression will be subdued by the armies of freedom.

The O.S.A. is an institution which is emblematic of the free world in which we have lived, and for which so great a human sacrifice is being made. It typifies freedom of association, freedom of learning, freedom of speech and freedom of action, which form part of the great heritage of all free peoples of the world.

Most, if not all of you, have been born and reared in Alberta, a free country, a new country, a country rich in opportunity, which in spite of some of its limitations and past experiences, offers to us as full a life as can be found anywhere in the world.

I sometimes wonder if we appreciate the sacrifices which have been made in the past to provide us with such opportunities and privileges—if we lack appreciation—if we are taking too much for granted?

As students of the O.S.A. I would have you look back thirty years. True, that was before most of you were born—to the period of the last war, when three new schools of agriculture were established to serve the youth of the Province. Today, thirty years after their establishment, we have only two schools and only one of which is in operation. Yet agriculture has expanded enormously since 1913, the farm population has doubled and agricultural production has more than tripled. Alberta has become one of the leading agricultural provinces in Canada. Why then have not the agricultural schools kept pace with the advancement?

Thousands of students have enjoyed the benefits, but that number is not proportionate. It is highly important that the youth of Alberta interested or engaged in agriculture, should always have access to up-to-date vocational training.

May I suggest that there is no more useful post-war activity that challenges the Alumni of the O.S.A. than the encouragement of greater development of agricultural training such as you have received at the O.S.A.

The Schools of Agriculture are vocational schools; they must provide adequate training for the young men and women who follow the vocation of agriculture. Training must be designed and modified to meet the increasing complexities and needs of those engaged in agriculture. If there is a need to extend or improve the services of the O.S.A. for the benefit of future generations, I trust you will lend the helping hand.

O. S. LONGMAN.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

WE EXTEND our congratulations to our graduates for successfully passing another milestone. You have been privileged above the average in being able to complete your schooling in a pleasant peaceful land. May you long be able to cherish in retrospect the happy times spent in our halls.

This is a young and virile country and its hope is in its youth. The older generation is prone to dream dreams of what has been but youth is blessed with visions of what may be,—visions of prosperous cities and happy homes in a beautiful countryside. It is to be your privilege to contribute to its accomplishment.

It may not be your lot to command the applause of listening senates or to become famous in art, literature, agriculture or war;— some of you may. We have graduates who are. You may serve in a humble capacity, but wherever your lot may be cast you may rest assured that your influence will be felt in your own immediate neighborhood. May it be exerted toward making this old world torn by strife and hatred, a better place in which to live.

Editorial

THE O.S.A. Year Book Staff take great pleasure in presenting the 1943-44 issue of "Echoes". We hope we have prepared a true picture, a brief record of the activities of the term. We were not permitted to publish as large a copy as in previous years because of paper restrictions, but we trust it will bring back memories and be enjoyed.

Looking back upon the two winters spent at this school, we are filled with gratitude; gratitude to those who have sacrificed and have made it possible for us to attend the Olds School of Agriculture, gratitude to the Principal and his staff whose tireless efforts have given us so much that will remain with us for the rest of our lives; gratitude to our fellow-students who have influenced us and rounded off our rough corners, fitting us for citizenship in this great country.

We are now going out to take our place in the world and whether in the Armed Services, on farms or wherever we may be, we are now better equipped for our task. The variety of subjects covered in our courses gives us a good general knowledge and helps to create in us a vision which is needed for success.

Mingling and associating with students from all parts of the province develops in us the faculty of getting along with people and thus through life our friends will be more numerous, adding greatly to our happiness.

We sincerely thank the students, the teaching staff, the printers, the engravers and advertisers for the contributions which have made this book possible.

Valedictory

AS WE, the graduating students, gather here tonight many thoughts naturally pass through our minds.

How many of these friends will we meet again? Have we left pleasing impressions of ourselves with those we have known here? Have we taken full advantage of opportunities for further development?

Many of us will be in the Armed Services by next year. The rest will likely resume life where they left off last fall. But no matter where we are or what we are doing we will remember the pleasant times at O.S.A. Many difficult situations which we will undoubtedly encounter in the coming months will be overcome much easier with the experiences and memories we take with us from O.S.A.

Tomorrow, as we go to our separate homes, many of us will be making one of the big steps in our lives. That is, we are moving from the field of learning to the practical application of what we have learned here at school.

Many of us have at times thought that we have too much theory and not enough practical work in our course of studies. But this idea gradually leaves us as we go onward, because the careful planning and interweaving of our different subjects by our instructors becomes apparent.

We all owe a debt to our school here in that after we are home we must try to make our districts more co-operative and better places in which to live.

Our school motto: Opportunity, Service, and Advancement, should be our guide after we leave. It is a motto worthy of our best.

We have had great opportunities this winter and the extent to which we have taken advantage of them has been left to each one of us individually. We have learned that opportunities will not come to us all the time but we must go out and make them. Our studies have helped us to recognize situations in which we could try our skill and judgment and to make the most of them. This will indeed help mould our future lives.

Our province has been of service to us in the past years and I know each of us will try to repay that service in the years ahead. Graduating groups from this school are expected to be leaders in their communities and in the province as a whole. Many of our leading people in Agriculture and in other fields of activity have passed through these halls and we believe this will be true of more and more of our graduates as the years go by.

Even in the short time we have been here our eyes have been opened along many new avenues. Our interest has been aroused and for many of us further study will be a natural sequence. We will not stop but will carry on and keep up the good work of former graduates.

We have been taught and we have learned many things during this term, but one of the main advantages enjoyed here is not a direct result of teaching; the very fine art of living in harmony with other people; learning to respect the ideas and views of those around us; realizing the importance of a good personality in getting along in life. For some of us perhaps these came naturally but for others it was a matter of learning the hard way. But in either case, I believe we have all made progress along this road. Our Principal and our staff have set us a very high standard in all our ideals. They have worked many long hours for us beyond the limits of the curriculum. We do appreciate this and will try to be worthy of their efforts on our behalf. To you all, we say, a very humble, "Thank you".

In closing, I would like to say to the graduates that I know we will not be forgotten. To the staff, we will not forget. We will carry on and do our best to advance, and you at the school will be hearing of us in the years to come.

—ALAN HODGSON.

SECOND YEAR GRADUATES

Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.

Proverbs 3:13.

PETER ARMSTRONG—Irvine.

"Asking questions is the beginning of useful knowledge."

A product of the Cypress Hills. Wore his safety pin suit on May 7, 1926 at Irvine. Prairie rancher at heart. Used to be his mother's little boy but now tries hard to be someone else's. One of Ernie's steady customers in between classes. Keeps in touch with all the new shows. Likes eating and sleeping, but does take an interest in his course. A man of good size and good nature. We wish you luck, Pete.

MARY A. BAUGHN—Rochfort Bridge.

Mary was born at High River on December 29, 1923, then moved to Rochfort Bridge during the summer of 1930. She completed public school at Jalna and part high school at Rochfort Bridge before coming to O.S.A. to take the Agricultural course.

Ambition—To show a Grand Champion Percheron at the Chicago International and to become a good livestock photographer.

Hobbies—Studying Percheron and Holstein bloodlines.

Pastime—Horseback riding and talking horses with Quantz in Room 29.

Weakness—Eating till it hurts.

Good luck, Mary.

ELMER BAKKEN—Excel.

Elmer first cast his shadow on August 19, 1925, at Excel, where he has received public and part of high school. The north wing isn't of much interest to him as yet. In the fall of 1942 he came to O.S.A. to increase his knowledge of practical farming. Fond of sports, he is a valuable player on the O.S.A. Volleyball team.

DALE BUSMANN—Tudor.

Born in Calgary, lived there one year. Lived at Standard for four years, then at Gleichen four years. Tudor, he says, is the place, and now we find this handsome blonde man among the ranks of the students of O.S.A. While here he has made many friends. He has proved to be a good athlete and is a star on the hockey team. "Flipping pudding means bad luck," he says. Dale never forgets to get up for Monday and Saturday morning classes.

Weakness—Going to Calgary (eye trouble).

VICTORIA MARY BETLAMINI—Pendryl.

Vicky made her first appearance in this world November 15, 1924 in Pendryl. Suddenly deciding that a career was what she wanted, she came to O.S.A. and has proudly taken her stand. She enjoys Sunday morning breakfast with the rest of her sidekicks. She enjoyed hockey last year better than this. Couldn't be the forwards, could it? Another of the Quints on Short.

Pastime—Making pie in the cooking lab.

Weakness—The sunny south.

WALTER BUSHFIELD—Balzac.

First began making a commotion around Balzac on May 17, 1925. Likes the foothills. He ventured to O.S.A. to widen his field of knowledge. An athlete and a friend to all. The reunion centre for the second years living down town—about two dozen of them.

Ambition—To get the chickens to lay more than one egg a day (no doubt he will succeed).

Weakness—Sleeps during study period.

ADRIENNE IDA BRAUSEN—Ankerton.

Our dear friend "Ginger" first gave us news of her presence on March 11, 1921 in Ankerton. Ginger is our Second Year President and Societal Editor of our school paper. This happy-go-lucky girl always lives on the sunny side in spite of all her undertakings. In her two years at O.S.A. she has done quite well in keeping up with her dates, although she claims there may be a reason for this. Her ambitions, she says, are to learn dressmaking and learning to knit.

We all wish you the best of luck, Adrienne.

DENNIS BRINDLEY—Lethbridge.

"Always cheerful, always bright,

Never weary, never tight."

Dennis first gave his cry of surprise when he greeted Sunny Alberta on the 9th of June, 1924. Dennis has lived near Lethbridge almost all his life, received both his public and high school education there. At the age of three he moved from the city to an irrigated farm where he has become skilful in irrigation.

Favorite Saying—"Let's skip this class."

Pastime—Ralph's Coffee Shop Sunday afternoons.

DON BARKER—Calgary.

"He has a smile to everyone;
Ask him anything and it shall be done."

First worried the world with his presence on September 28, 1922. Knows a little of everything. We give him credit for the part he has played in the social and literary activities of the school. Has a musical touch. A grain farmer of eastern Calgary. He likes to have a good argument with Mr. Parkinson. Pat and Don spend hours arguing about south and north. Don's room is a real kitchen when it comes to mid-night feeds.

KAREN JACOBSEN—Rosedale Station.

Always smiling, never blue,
Always paddles her own canoe.

Karen first peeked into this world on April 24, 1924, in Denmark. She made her first trip across the ocean at the tender age of five, landing in the Rosedale district. She took her schooling there prior to coming to O.S.A. Is one of the Quints on Short.

Weakness—Coffee after lights out.
Pastime—Sunday morning breakfast in bed.
Best of luck, Karen.

PAT CARRELL—Beaverlodge.

A product of the Peace River District, born at Beaverlodge on the 17th of March, 1922. He didn't like the temperature up there so he decided to move into the O.S.A. dormitory for the winter of 42-43. We don't imagine the cold has affected him yet since he always has something to say and can move around plenty fast. How can he ever keep quiet around those bees he has on his farm? We all enjoy hearing him play his bugle. Pat is a sturdy defence man on the hockey team and never gets in between the man and the boards. His ambition is to revise the farming practice in the Peace River District.

ELEONORA HEDVIG SJOGREN—Brightview.

Eleonora made her first bow December 16, 1923 in Uppsala, Sweden. In 1924 she came with her parents to Canada, where she settled in the Brightview district. SOCIAL

LITERARY

ANOTHER successful year for the Literary Society has drawn to a close.

Under Mr. Benn's able supervision, four First Year Lits were produced, while the Two-in-One's and Second Year's presented two each.

To add to the variety there were two round table discussions arranged, one for the boys and one for the girls. Both topics were very interesting and capably handled. The boys dealt with "Post War Conditions" under various branches, as follows:

Bracken's Policy	R. Beddoes
Beveridge's Report	D. Barker
United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation	F. Pawlowski
Returned Men Rehabilitation	C. Randers
How to Disarm Germany for Keeps	W. Bushfield
Conversion of War Industry to Peace	B. Armstrong

The girls chose as their subject "The Women's Place in the World of Today, Tomorrow and Former Years." Those participating were: Eve Heaver, Karen Jacobsen, Margaret Christie, Yvonne Lynch, Adrienne Brausen and Nadya Melnychuk.

Several unusual Lits were given by the students this year, under Mrs. Weller's direction. The First Boys' night—was a night of nonsense. It was enjoyed by everyone. Girls' night took the form of the lovely Tableau.

The three-act play "The Late Christopher Bean" will long be remembered by those who saw it. Not only was the play itself good, but those taking part gave very good performances. The cast was as follows:

Dr. Hagget	Tony Biamonte
Susan Hagget	Jessie Percival
Abby	Eve Heaver
Mrs. Hagget	Frances Spooner
Ada Haggett	Muriel Hobbs-Bond
Warren Creamer	Verne Flach
Tallant	Francis Pals
Rosen	Richard Beddoes
Davenport	Bill Mills

As the play opens, a new artist has just been discovered—Christopher Bean. He lived with the Haggetts until his death some years before. His pictures are found to be worth fortunes, and the Haggetts get mixed up with swindlers in their attempt to obtain possession of the canvasses. While trying to sell seventeen of Bean's pictures which Abby has rescued, they are foiled in their crooked deal by the discovery that Abby is the rightful owner of the fortune, as she is Chris Bean's widow.

Another popular event was the Public Speaking Contest, in which Dick Beddoes won the gold medal, Alma Storch the silver medal, and Frank Pawlowski the bronze medal.

The event to which most of us looked forward was the Interclass Plays. These were all enjoyed by a record audience.

The Second Year Play—"Long Distance."

Director Mr. Benn

Cast:

Gilbert Henderson	Leon Boulter
Arthur Morgan	Pat Carrels
Simon Brett	Bob McKnight
Mary Lee	Victoria Bettlamini
Joe Mullen	Jack King
Hulda	Adrienne Brausen

When the play opens, Arthur is phoning Gilbert Henderson, a corporation manager, asking him to send a mechanic to recover an engagement ring from a tractor's vital parts. The man is sent out, just as Simon Brett phones Henderson to cancel the trip. A series of phone calls follows until the ring is finally found in the corner of the barn, much to the relief of all, and especially to Arthur and Mary.

Two-in-One Play—"Dregs."

Director Mr. Hawker

Cast:

Jim Willard Paxman
Nance Margaret Christie
The Detective Grant Paxman

Nance, Jim's common law wife, is deeply troubled by Jim's kidnapping of a multimillionaire's adopted child. Nance begs Jim to return the child, but only draws his displeasure upon herself. Jim relates part of his unfortunate life story, describing his anguish when "charity" takes his boy from him on the grounds that he was not a fit father. The detective's entrance threatens gun-play, until Jim is softened by the discovery that he has kidnapped his own boy.

First Year Play—"A Wedding."

Director Mr. Yauch

Cast:

The Bridegroom Cliff Green
The Best Man Richard McCallum
The Bride Vila Dudley
A Groomsman Jim McGowan
The Bridegroom's Mother Lois Cartwright
The Bride's Father George Boulton
The Bride's Aunt Doreen Hearne

As the play opens, the bridegroom is frantically looking for a lost collar button. One person after another offers little or no assistance until tempers are frayed. The bride enters, and last minute faults are revealed, resulting in a broken engagement. After a serious discussion the bride and groom decide that after all they are a suited couple, and proceed with the ceremony.

If all the world loves a lover, it is equally true that all the world hates a quitter.

THE EVENING of December 17th will long be remembered by those who saw the vision of loveliness—"The Tableau". It was a great artistic achievement and portrayed the true ideals behind the school.

The fifty-two figures were presented in pastel classical drapes. They represented the spirits of dance, song, music, poetry, and so on. It was a challenge to youth, it gave us all an uplift and a determination to live as near as possible to those wonderful ideals. It was indeed one of the greatest cultural events the school has so far produced.

Many thanks go to Mrs. Weller, whose great ability was demonstrated in the casting of this tableau.

Even though Mrs. Weller was here for only a short time, her glowing personality and inspiration to youth will always remain with us. We shall never forget those rousing dramatic classes which added variety to our curriculum. Not only did we improve our speech but also gained a finer and more cultural outlook on life.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

OUR SOCIAL LIFE is an important part of the course here at O.S.A. Yet there is no assigned instructor, no set course and best of all, no notes or exams. The entire success of the social life depends on the students, as a group and as individuals. Co-operation has been the basis of our success. Limited space will not allow us to list the entire years' activities in detail or in part, and so we can merely give a summary of the outstanding events.

STAFF RECEPTION . . .

A high standard of entertainment was set by the staff, on the first Friday night after our arrival. The students were received by a reception committee headed by Mr. and Mrs. Murray. To those coming back for their second year, this was the commencement of Friday night fun; but to those here for the first time, everything was new and different, but they soon found themselves in the midst of the frolicking, as the master of ceremonies brought all in turn into the games. After the students were well mixed, the staff orchestra made its appearance and the remainder of the night was spent in dancing.

INITIATION DANCE . . .

A night to be remembered by all students was the Initiation Dance. All new students were required to dress in a fashion designated by the Second Year class. Blind dates were the order of the evening, and when the music started, they soon forgot their embarrassment to swing into the fun, for a roaring good time.

ALUMNAE DANCE . . .

Chalked up as one of the most successful evenings of the year, and a credit to those who organized it. The college echoed the greetings of ex-students, as they returned for a brief re-union in these halls where they had formerly worked and played together. Some forty-five or fifty ex-students were present.

Music was supplied by the college orchestra and a feature entertainment was a Ukrainian Dance by four girls, dressed in the colorful Ukrainian costumes. Most important to the former students, however, were the quiet little chats with friends and with the staff. All in all, we're sure it was enjoyed by everyone.

CHRISTMAS CLOSING DANCE . . .

It was a happy and carefree group which filled the gym for the Closing Dance of the first term. Exams were over and soon we would be homeward bound for Christmas and a few days relaxation from books.

The evening began with carolling, after which Mr. Murray gave a brief address, wishing all the best of the season, and presenting a number of Scholarships won last spring. To round out the program Mrs. Weller presented a Christmas Tableau, which gave a final seasonal touch to the evening.

The events were then turned to a lighter vein and everyone enjoyed the dancing until train time.

MASQUERADE . . .

A colorful display of costumes were seen at the Annual Costume Ball. They represented almost everything from cats, clowns, cowboys and girls to a bridal party. Many acted their part as well as looked it, which added much to the fun of the evening. Fines were imposed on those who did not wear costumes, but these were few.

Competition was close, but the judges finally came to the following decision: For the girls, prizes went to Elconora Sjogren, Jessie Percival and Nadia Melnychuk. To the boys, the awards were won by Ronald Shingleton, Tony Biamonte and Donald Hall.

LEAP YEAR DANCE . . .

Leap Year is the plague of all single men, however, none of the boys can say they didn't have a good time, when the reins were given over to the girls. As for the girls, they handled the evening in a way which would do credit to the experienced; which makes one inclined to doubt them when they say that it was their first.

At the time of writing, only one of these dances is on record, but another is scheduled for the near future, which we're sure will be as equally big a success.

HIGH SCHOOL PARTY . . .

On February 11, the students and staff of O.S.A. were guests of the Olds High School, to a Valentine Dance. The School gymnasium was very appropriately decorated and therein students from the school and college joined together in enjoying an evening of dancing. Music was supplied by the Penhold R.A.F. Orchestra. Novelty dances and special numbers added variety to the evening's entertainment.

HIKING . . .

To give a change of entertainment and to encourage students to get out into the great outdoors, the Social Committee organized a hike. Mother nature was on our side as the evening chosen, Sunday, February 6th, was mild and clear, and a big yellow moon lighted the snow-covered countryside. Students gathered outside the girls' dorm. and the hike started from there in a group. Upon arrival at the chosen camp-site, a fire was started and all joined in a sing-song followed by cocoa and doughnuts. When these were gone and the fire had burned low, we started back to the dorm. We're sure that everybody slept soundly that night.

O.S.A. ENTERTAINS . . .

High School students found a good time waiting for them, when they arrived as guests on the evening of February 28. There was little need for introductions as most of the students were well acquainted, and soon the two groups became one in a rollicking good time.

OTHER EVENTS . . .

Other events which are worthy of comments are: The regular teas at Mrs. Murray's to which all students, are in turn, invited. Those good meals in the apartment prepared by the Home Economics students. The kitchen parties, and last but not least, the room parties.

Mr. Yauch—"Tom, your notes are abominable."
Tom B.—"Well, you gave them to us."

"Do you know Dale Busmann?"
"Yes, I used to sleep with him."
"Room mates?"
"No, classmates."

P. Armstrong (during exams)—"What's the date?"
Mr. Holeyton—"Never mind the date, your exams are more important."
Peter—"Well, I want to have something right on my paper."

Mr. Yauch—"I want some monoaceticacidestec of Salicylic acid."
Druggist—"You want what?"
Mr. Yauch—"Some monoaceticacidestec of Salicylic Acid. I can't think of the brand name, but they are white pills you take for headaches."
Druggist—"You don't mean Aspirin."
Mr. Yauch—"Oh, yes, Aspirin. I never can remember that name."

ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

THE LONG, open fall enabled the students to hold a field day and a softball tournament for boys and girls. Both were very successfully completed.

Hockey wasn't organized until January due to the mild weather that persisted until the new year.

Basketball teams for both boys and girls were organized and both squads completed a successful season. House leagues in the hoop game were organized for both boys and girls.

Volley ball gained a new high in popularity for the boys this year and the organization of house leagues precipitated a keen interest in the game. Several games were played with ardent town athletes and the college edged out the invaders in most of the contests.

Due to lack of birds there was no badminton for the students this year. The staff, however, had one badminton night a week and the games provided a real outlet for the instructors.

Bouquets are due to Mr. Armstrong, Mr. Gordon, Mr. Malyon, Miss Moseson and Mr. Hawker for having successfully led college athletics this term.

Standing—Armstrong (Manager), Wagner, K. Thomson, Busmann, Boulter, Randers, Gordon (Coach).
Sitting—Graff, Harrison, De Roaldes, Percival (Goal), McGinnis, J. Thompson, Damberger.
Omitted—Carrell.

HOCKEY

DUE TO the exceptionally mild weather there was no ice at the college this year. The Arena was available twice a week after ice making conditions were suitable, but the boys couldn't round into perfect form with that small amount of practice.

As it was, the team went winless on all times out, but the scores were close at all times. Towards the end of the season the squad displayed better combination and tighter defensive and back-checking playing.

Mr. Armstrong led the team as manager while Mr. Gordon became the very able playing coach. Thanks are due to them on rounding out a team that could have, with more practice, achieved victories.

The results of games played were as follows:

O.S.A. vs.	Played	Won	Lost	Tied
Mount Royal	1	0	1	0
O.H.S.	2	0	2	0
Olds Salts	2	0	2	0
Didsbury	2	0	1	1

Back Row—Malyon (Coach), Henrie, Paverly, Langdale, A. Storch, Bates, L. Storch.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

THE O.S.A. team this year upheld the laurels of former O.S.A. Girls' Basketball teams. Under the patient guidance of Mr. Malyon the squad became a high scoring, neat passing aggregation. The Olds High School squad became the O.S.A. team's arch rivals this term. In the five games played against O.H.S. our girls were shaded, three games to two. The high school won the first three games, and then our girls finished strong to win the last two played by scores of 14-8 and 19-16.

Of interest this term was the game between the staff and the girls. The memorable scene of sedate staff members dressed in gaudy and outlandish women's costumes won't soon be forgotten by those who saw the fixture.

The girls invaded Bowden in February and won a hard fought game from the girls up there.

Many thanks are due Mr. Malyon for assisting and coaching the team all year.

Below is a list of the games played:

O.S.A. vs.

	P.	W.	L.
Bowden	1	1	0
O.H.S.	5	2	3
Staff	1	0	1

Back Row—McCallum, Boulter, Wilde, Puffer, Percival.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

AFTER A lax year in '42-'43, O.S.A. brought forth a Boys' Basketball team of some merit this year. Early in the term Mr. Hawker worked to no end to develop a team that would hold its own in junior company. The team has been kept in a semblance of condition through the house league games.

However, lack of competition kept the fans from knowing just how good the team was. A squad is only developed through rigorous competition against better teams, and, unfortunately, this kind of competition was not forthcoming.

Early in the term the Aggies severely trounced the high school twice. In February the team invaded Bowden for a game with the R.A.F. boys and finished on the long end of the score. On March 15th Bowden R.A.F. returned the game and again O.S.A. proved their ability.

As we go to press the team is endeavouring to enter the Alberta Junior Playdowns. Mr. Hawker is attempting to give the squad its first real chance at some laurels and it is hoped that such competition can be arranged. If the boys go in their competition in the south will be the West End Wildcats, Calgary Junior Champions.

THE CHINOOK

THE CHINOOK Staff was organized near the beginning of the term, to publish the O.S.A. paper, with Vair Reid as editor. He was succeeded by Jack Wemp after Vair was appointed editor of the Year Book.

The Chinook Staff publish a paper every two weeks during the term, which adds much interest to the school life. They keep abreast with the news and various incidents that add to the enjoyment of all.

This year a new task was tackled by the paper staff. They organized a War Savings Stamp drive, and sold the amount of fifty dollars worth in one evening.

The credit for the success of the paper goes largely to Jack Wemp, who is an exceptionally clever cartoonist. The cover designs and original cartoon pages depicting incidents in college life were superb.

The LITTLE ROYAL

THE LITTLE ROYAL

THE "LITTLE ROYAL" of 1944 was held on March 11th. The great amount of work done by the students, coupled with quite favorable weather conditions, made the "Little Royal" a very commendable show.

Very little sickness was experienced throughout the time the boys were preparing their animals, which gave everyone a chance.

All classes were shown outside except the sheep and hog classes, which were shown in the stock pavilion and the butchering classes which were shown in a dormitory class room.

Dr. R. D. Sinclair, Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture of the University of Alberta, made a very fine job of judging the classes. He placed each class and gave reasons for his placing which made the afternoon interesting and educational.

SECOND GENERATION

AN INDICATION of the value that some of the early students of the O.S.A. place on the courses given at this institution is shown in the fact that they are sending their children to this school. This year we have in attendance the four second generation girls shown in the above picture. Their parents were at the O.S.A. in 1920-21.

Norma Nelson (2-1) is the daughter of Nels Nelson and Mollie Ray now living at Blue River, B.C. Betty Quantz (2-1) is the daughter of Percy Quantz and Ada Stevenett of Penhold. Margery Mossman (Lst. Yr.) is the daughter of Frank Mossman and Annie McKenzie of Hughenden. All the above parents graduated in the two year course in 1921 and it is more than likely that their romances started at the O.S.A.

Jean Paverly (Lst. Yr.) is the daughter of Fred Paverly of Wembley who took only his first year. However he is none the less a booster for the school as his older daughters Grace and Dorothy graduated in the 1943 class.

Another member of the graduating class of 1920-21, Ada Riley now Mrs. Mundie of Horse Shoe Lake, Alta., had a daughter, Nellie Mundie in the graduating class of 1941.

Other second generation students in the order of attendance were Mervin Stafford who took part of the first year in 1934-35, a son of Wilson Stafford of Crossfield, who was a student during the first year of the school in 1913-14.

David Nelson (2-1) who graduated in 1938-39 is the son of Erna Roedler (Mrs. Nelson of Cluny) who was the first girl to take the Agricultural Course. She took her first year only in 1916-17.

Alfred Swainson, a 1938-39 graduate whose father Swain Swainson of Red Deer was a member of the first graduating class in 1915 and whose mother, Rooney Sigurdson, took the first year in 1914-15. The last we heard of Alfred he was piloting a plane in the Mediterranean area.

Jim McKinnon who graduated in 1942, a son of Charles McKinnon of Langdon, also a member of the first class, 1913-14, who did not return for his second year.

We trust that in future years many more names will be added to this list. To the writer of these records, who has been a staff member since the beginning of the school, the presence of these second generationists brings a realization of the fact that he is no longer a spring chicken.

—GEO. R. HOLETON.

"RETROSPECT—20 YEARS HENCE"

There are miles of pine and river line between us now, dear friend;
My heart is sad and I miss you lad, as this short note I send.
I thought today of the work and play we loved with all our hearts,
Of rod and gun and tent poles hung in nature's counterpart.
Of fishing trips and morning dips in distant mountain streams
Of the mining jobs and the work with logs behind the big bay team.
And I thought of the joys we had when boys down on the valley farm,
Of crows nests high and the marsh hawks cry of terror and alarm.
My mind turned back to the well worn track we trod to the country school.
To the play yard green and the shimmering sheen of the enticing swimming pool.

I remembered baseball games and the icy lanes we skated merrily on,
Of autumn days when the rugby craze was rapidly catching on.
I thought of the day we entered O.S.A. to learn the farmer's life,
Of the friends we met, and the beds we upset in our happy boyish strife.
Of the joyous times when song and rhyme were rendered to our ear
And the tales we heard, though most absurd, were pleasing and sincere.
I miss them all, the large and small, and the teachers sedate and kind.
You may travel far from earth to star but no closer friends you'll find.

As I lived once more those days of yore, my heart grew glad again.
And I basked in the light that was warm and bright, from the days of 'way back when.
They are better than gold, these thoughts of old, and will light us till the end,
They will brighten the strife of the battle of life and comfort us like a friend.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY

ACHIEVEMENT DAY is scheduled to take place March 25th, two weeks after the Little Royal as in previous years.

At this time parents, friends, and many others who are interested in the practical accomplishments of the pupils gather to see their work on display.

The first event of the afternoon, and one which attracts much attention, is the dress parade in the gymnasium, when the girls, acting as their own models, display the dresses, coats and suits which they have made. The Two-in-One and Second Year girls model their graduation dresses. After the completion of this program other displays in the class rooms of the Dormitory and Main Buildings are open for inspection.

The boys' main displays are in blacksmithing, carpentry, botany, dairying and horticulture.

Many fine displays are exhibited by the girls—garments, articles of sewing, needlepoint, weaving and other articles for the home which have been made in classes devoted to manual training and household administration.

For those interested in the work of the school and the students, no better opportunity is afforded than that on Achievement Day, to see what is actually being accomplished during the school term.

When the Sun Shines Again

SOME DAY, the clouds of war will pass away. The guns will have ceased their cannonading, ships will ply their peacetime commerce, cities will bustle with activity without the overtones of war.

PEACE!—after the screaming of shells, the thunder of guns, the rattle of tanks, the clatter of falling buildings, the very word has a sound of quiet, of stillness—PEACE.

The world at peace will be a different world than any we have ever known.

Planes, now carrying death and destruction, will wing the blessings of science and industry to the far corners of the world. Nations will be linked by hours where they have been isolated by days.

Factories, now busy around the clock producing the materials of war will be turning out new conveniences and comforts for the benefit of mankind. There will be new products, new methods, new materials.

There will be new labor-saving, time-saving John Deere equipment, too. While manufacturing farm equipment to the limit permitted by governmental regulations in addition to parts for tanks, planes, ships, and shells in ever-increasing quantities, the John Deere organization is continuing its century-old practice of constant research to bring out new machines, improve old ones, and develop new methods, to the end that when peace returns to the land, farm work may be easier, farm life more enjoyable, and farming more profitable.

Nutrients Balanced for Correct Feeding

It takes more than just the proper number of nutrients to build good animals. Food elements must be balanced in the correct proportions for each age of animal and for each feeding purpose.

These proportions are scientifically maintained in every batch of Burns' "ViGoR" Feeds and Supplements. That's one of the reasons progressive farmers throughout the West are finding them the most sound and economical means of getting maximum results.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The Alberta Department of Agriculture offers through its various Branches a variety of services and policies which are intended to assist the Agricultural Industry of the Province.

Under wartime conditions the chief objective of the Department is to aid farmers to produce the essential products that are required in Canada's War Effort.

Notwithstanding this immediate aim, the Department is also cognizant of post-war reconstruction problems and is planning accordingly.

Graduates of the School of Agriculture are invited to utilize the services of the Department not only in their own farming operations, but also in any community activities in which, as a result of their special training, they will be associated.

ON FARMERS' EFFORTS

To win a war requires that Sacrifices, Contributions and Efforts shall be made each in their proper place, and at the proper time.

The soldiers who risk their lives make the Sacrifices.

Those who pay taxes, or who make gifts of money and services to the Government, make the Contributions.

Those who work hard, work well and provide the foodstuffs and other munitions of war, make the Efforts.

The farmers' production of foodstuffs ranks among the most worthy efforts of all, for without good high-quality sustaining and nutritious food, soldiers cannot fight, nor can industrial workers stand long hours of work making munitions.

If the boys and girls who have the privilege of attending the Olds School of Agriculture will put into practice in their farm homes the ideas they have learned at this fine institution, then they too will be making both worthy Contributions and worthy Efforts towards the winning of this war.
